Annexure-'9' to the petition, which is the impugned order, is not completely legible and the typed copy of the impugned order has also not been enclosed.

It is quite surprising that the Registry of this Court before sending the matter to the Court is not examining whether the documents appended with the petition are legible or not.

In view of the above, let this matter be listed on 16th September, 2021. In the meantime, learned counsel for the petitioner shall file a supplementary affidavit bringing on record legible copy of the documents as also the typed copy thereof.

The Registry shall also furnish an explanation as to why such petitions are being sent to the Court directly without checking whether the documents sent to the Court are legible or not.
